

Welcome to BNL And the ASAP Lounge

Please read and sign this document for access to the ASAP Lounge in Building 750.

~~~~~

Building 750 was the High Flux Beam Reactor at BNL for more than 30 years. Because of its past use, the building has special occupancy and facility restrictions.

They are:

- The lobby area, game room, and conference room are the areas permitted for use by ASAP.
- Please park in designated areas in the East Parking Lot.
- Smoking is not allowed inside any Government building, and cooking, or consumption of alcoholic beverages are also not permitted in this facility.
- Obey all signs and postings of restricted areas. Call 911 or 2222 in case of emergency or if you discover an unsecured entrance to restricted areas of the facility
- Please be considerate of the safety of all at ASAP. No horseplay is permitted in the ASAP Lounge
- Since Building 750 is a former nuclear reactor facility, there are some special rules for use of this building. For instance, the effluent from the building is monitored for radioactivity. Do not use the rest room facilities in the building if you have recently undergone a medical procedure where a radioisotope was administered. Also, for security purposes unrelated to ASAP use, these facilities are monitored by closed circuit TV.
